

Reinventing the Commons

Social Ecosystems for Local Stewardship & Planetary Survival

A Friday evening Public Talk and Saturday One-Day Workshop
With David Bollier and Dave Jacke
@ the Montague Common Hall ("Grange"), Montague, MA

- Friday, January 20, 2017, 7-9 PM, $12 @ door or $10 in advance.
- Saturday, Jan 21, 2017, 8:30-5, $85-125, includes Friday evening and a soup lunch. Preregistration required.

Explore

- Feasible alternatives to predatory, extractive markets based on short-term self-interest.
- The commons as a fair and practical system of local provisioning, governance, and culture.
- How defined groups of people can share specific resources with clear, evolving mutual agreements.

Engage

- How can we consciously and creatively adapt ancient commons systems to our modern culture?
- Lectures, discussions, case studies, exercises; co-learning and co-creation!
- Apply commoning principles to Brook's Bend Farm, an emerging community Farm in Montague

David Bollier: Independent scholar, blogger, advocate, consultant; author of 8 books on the commons. Bollier.org

Dave Jacke: Ecological designer since 1970s, author Edible Forest Gardens, researching the commons in ancient Europe.

Information and Registration

- Checks to Dave Jacke • Dynamics Ecological Design • 33 E. Taylor Hill Road • Montague, MA 01351
- Questions: davej@edibleforestgardens.com • 603-831-1298 • www.edibleforestgardens.com/events
- Or register at: ReinventingCommons.BrownPaperTickets.com (fees apply).